Richardson's Announcement on New Gasoline Tax Bill

Governor Friend W. Richardson yesterday announced that he received an opinion from the attorney general in regard to the gas tax bill. The attorney general holds that the bill would repeal the present two cent gas tax and leave all gasoline free from tax from July 24th to September 30, 1925; that the senate amendments are unconstitutional, but if they are held valid that all gas money would be frozen until January, 1927.

Governor Richardson today said:

"The attorney general has handed me a well considered and exhaustive opinion on the gas tax bill. He is positive that 'if the bill is approved, there will be a period of approximately two months during which no tax will be payable.' Of the three paragraphs added to the bill in the senate and called by me the 'pork barrel' amendments, the attorney general says 'that they must be held to be invalid as violative of the constitutional provision that an act shall embrace but one subject,' but if these paragraphs are valid, he says: 'The money provided in the bill for reconstruction and new construction through the state highway commission would not be available for expenditure until January 1927.'

"Here is a pretty mess of bungling by legislative legal lights who framed the bungled bill and wrote the bungled pork barrel amendments. If signed, the result would be as follows:

1. Nine weeks when millions of gallons of gasoline sold would escape all tax.

2. The loss of more than eight millions of dollars of road money to the counties and the state.

3. The act as written would raise no money until May, 1925, one year hence.

4. Pork barrel amendments so badly bungled as to be unconstitutional.

5. If pork barrel amendments are valid, then all gas money would be frozen and all work stopped until next session of the legislature.

6. To permit a referendum of this unconstitutional and bungled bill would be futile and expensive."

The Attorney General in his opinion to the governor says:

"If approved, the bill would become effective not earlier than July 24, 1925, and not later than July 28, 1925, by reason of section 1 of article IV of the state constitution which provides, with certain exceptions not here applicable, that

"No act passed by the legislature shall go into effect until 90 days after the final adjournment of the session of the legislature which passed such act."

And section 323 of the Political Code which declares that 'every statute, unless different time is prescribed therein, takes effect on the sixtieth day of its passage.'

The date of the passage of an act within the contemplation of that code section is the date of the approval of the act by the Governor. Upon the taking effect of the bill, the provision in section 3 of the amended act imposing a tax of two cents per gallon upon distributors of motor vehicles fuel would cease to exist, because section 3 of the bill substitutes a tax of three cents for the present tax of two cents per gallon and provides that the three cent tax shall not be payable until September 30, 1925. In consequence, if the bill is approved, there will be a period of approximately two months during which time no tax will be payable.

If the last three paragraphs of the bill deal exclusively with the state highway maintenance fund and the state highway construction fund created by the bill, it could safely be said that they prescribed a logical method for the attainment of the end desired by the legislature, but they are of far greater scope. The provision for the submission by the State Highway Commission of a budget to the legislature refers to a budget which comprehends proposed expenditures by the commission from any and all statutory funds available for new construction and reconstruction and detailed program of all highways to be constructed or reconstructed without regard to the sources of the payments thereof.

From this analysis of the last three paragraphs of the bill it is to me manifest that they are concerned with subject matter not cognate to the field covered by the existing statute, that they should have been enacted as separate legislation, and that they must be held to be invalid as violative of the constitutional provision that an act embrace but one subject. The provision in said paragraphs are so related and inter-dependent that they cannot be segregated in order that some of them be saved.

"This is in reply to your inquiry as to the time when the funds created by the above entitled bill would be available for expenditure by the state highway commission, assuming that the last three paragraphs of the bill are valid.

"In the last paragraph of the bill it is provided that all expenditures made by the commission for reconstruction shall be in accordance with and contingent upon the filing of the biennial budget and the annual supplemental budget required by the two paragraphs immediately preceding, and it is hereby made the duty of the state board of control to require that such expenditures be actually made in accordance with such budgets.

"The first supplemental budget would be filed in January, 1926, and the biennial budget would not be filed until January, 1927, the time of the next regular session of the legislature. Therefore, the moneys provided in the bill for reconstruction and new construction through the state highway commission would not be available for expenditure until January, 1927."

Editor's Note.—We publish this announcement received yesterday, owing to the fact that the Bay Shore highway is directly involved in the matter.

S. P. Cuts Cost Compartment Fee

A one-fourth reduction in the cost of transportation for single passengers having exclusive occupancy of a compartment on Southern Pacific trains was announced today by J. H. R. Parsons, passenger traffic manager.

Beginning June 20, a passenger wishing to have a compartment for individual use need purchase only one and one-half fare tickets, instead of two, as required now. The cost of the Pullman ticket for use of compartment is not changed. The reduction of the fare will be effective on all Southern Pacific and its connecting line trains carrying compartment cars.

CONSIDERING A BOND ISSUE

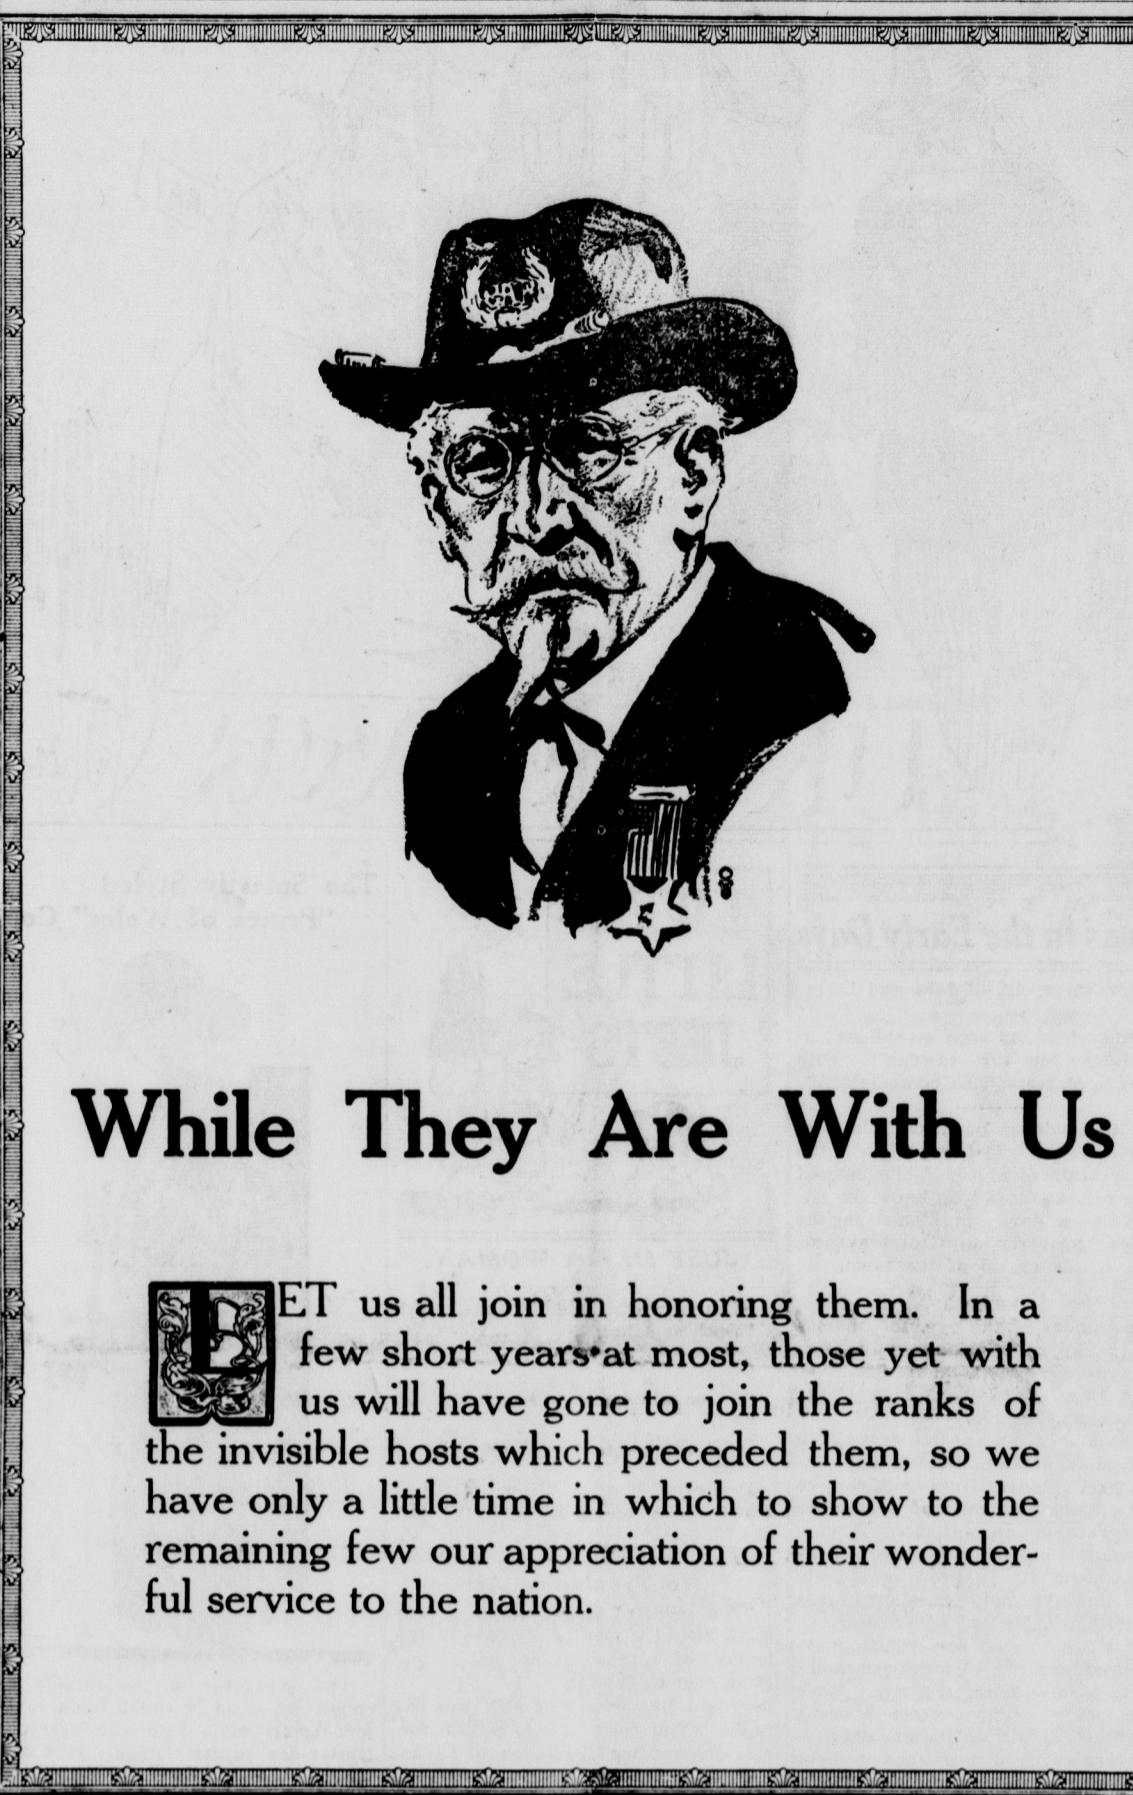

The civic officials are considering a bond issue for South San Francisco and while at present there is nothing definite, the probabilities are that within a short time some authentic figures will be submitted. It is proposed to raise sufficient funds to purchase better fire fighting equipment, to carry on park improvements, to install additional fire alarm boxes and possibly include sufficient funds to commence work on the improvement of the civic center.

Wants Assistance In Locating His Son

The Enterprise received a communication from William Kuhlmann, Sr., of 427 McDonald Avenue, Richmond, California, in which he requests information from his old friends as to the whereabouts of his youngest son, Frederic, who disappeared from Richmond two weeks ago and has not been heard of since. Anyone having information kindly communicate with Mr. Kuhlmann, Sr., 427 McDonald Avenue, Richmond, California. Mr. Kuhlmann was a former resident of South San Francisco and with his two sons, William and Frederic, went to Richmond, where he is engaged in the concrete paving contract business.

Distinguished Lady Will Address Club

A notable visitor from San Francisco, Mrs. H. V. Wurdean, chairman of the General Federation of Women's Clubs and of the Department of Friendly Co-operation with Ex-Servicemen, will address the Woman's Club on Wednesday at their annual breakfast. She will spend the week-end as a guest of Mrs. E. C. Peck, when they will visit the Palo Alto Base Hospital and Livermore Tuberculosis Hospital. Mrs. Wurdean has given five years' service to this cause.

While They Are With Us

ET us all join in honoring them. In a few short years at most, those yet with us will have gone to join the ranks of the invisible hosts which preceded them, so we have only a little time in which to show to the remaining few our appreciation of their wonderful service to the nation.

Firemen's Dance A Grand Success

The sixth annual ball staged by the South San Francisco fire department in Fraternal Hall on Saturday evening last was a social and financial success and netted the fire fighters about $250. Visiting firemen from various sections of the Peninsula were on hand and tripped the light fantastic to the strains of Lamb's splendid orchestra. Chairman W. Ely and his able committee are to be congratulated on the splendid manner in which the affair was conducted. Chief Beloni proved an excellent floor manager and was ably assisted by A. Sani. Sam Keasling was the capable "chef" who prepared the splendid luncheon. Manuel Piva of South San Francisco and Mrs. White of San Bruno captured the money for the prize waltz.

Daly City People In Auto Wreck

Four Daly City people were injured in a crash between two cars at Twenty-third and Balboa Avenue, San Francisco, early Sunday morning.

Arthur Liederman, driver of one of the cars; Miss Grace Griffiths, Miss Claire Manning and Joseph Marcevas, all of Daly City, were injured in one car when it collided with another containing Joseph McGowan, Vernon Ivers and Ben Sacks, all of San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. Thrower of Grand Avenue and a party of friends enjoyed a trout fishing trip near Santa Cruz on Sunday. Those who made up the party were: Mr. and Mrs. Thrower, Mr. and Mrs. Laughlin of Grand Avenue, Mr. and Mrs. George Allen of San Francisco and Fred Luis of this city.

Ready To Lease Peninsula Studios

The Dawn Production Company stands ready to lease the moving picture corporation's Peninsula Avenue studio plant for the purpose of continuing the production of moving pictures in Northern California.

George F. Snorff, president of the Dawn Productions, Incorporated, has informed the Three Cities Chamber of Commerce to this effect. Snorff appeared in person in San Mateo and informed Manager Daniel C. Imboden of the Three Cities chamber that his company is "sold to the possibilities at San Mateo and in Northern California."

Snorff is quoted by Manager Imboden as saying: "Our company has valuable releasing contracts and is in position to make a success of the splendid moving picture plant that has been built up here. We feel if the studios people care to lease the plant that we can make arrangement that will be fair to all concerned."

"Our company cannot afford to lease the plant for a year. We must have a long term lease. We will produce from two to three pictures per month."

The Three Cities Chamber of Commerce is also dealing with other Los Angeles and Hollywood interests relative to the Peninsula studio plant.

Charged With Petty Larceny

Fred George O'Jeda was arrested on Saturday and charged with having unlawfully taken a can of coffee and two cans of crabs from Curus Bros. store at 239 Grand Avenue. The case will be heard on Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock in Recorder Nolan's court.

John E. Hoyle Sr. Passed to Beyond

John E. Hoyle, Sr., father of John E. Hoyle, publisher of the South San Francisco Journal and former warden of San Quentin prison, died in Monterey Friday at the age of 77 years. Funeral services were held in Monterey Monday.

Coming to San Francisco in 1858, when he was 10 years old, the late Mr. Hoyle lived in that city the greater part of his life. He was a native of Massachusetts and is survived by his widow, Mrs. Addie Hoyle, and three sons, John E. Hoyle of South San Francisco; James H. Hoyle, formerly owner of the Terminal hotel, and Reuben Hoyle, San Francisco garage man.

Important Bills Hanging Fire

Governor Richardson has until Friday at midnight to sign the gas tax measure and save the Bayshore Boulevard, along with other roads of California.

With the signing of a dozen bills on Saturday, including new provisions for the motor vehicle laws, measures which most vitally affect San Mateo County still remain without the signature of the governor, it was reported from Sacramento.

These are Senate Bill No. 66, a county government act for San Mateo County, and the San Francisco harbor bill, as well as the Breed gas tax measure, considered the sole hope for construction of the Bayshore road in San Mateo County.

San Francisco Mayor Urges Signing Of Highway Bill

THIS LETTER IS SELF EXPLANATORY

Thomas Wiedemann, Editor, South San Francisco Enterprise, South San Francisco, California.

"Dear Sir: I want to thank you very much for your very excellent and splendid editorial respecting the study of all phases of the political integration of San Francisco and San Mateo counties.

"Your editorial most properly and correctly stated the fact that the San Francisco-San Mateo Counties Consolidation Study Convention is organized with one sole purpose in view, making an impartial, scientific and comprehensive study of this most important matter.

"There are, to be sure, many intricate problems involved and the citizens of the county, as your editorial pointed out, must, if this study is to be of real value, take an active and vigorous interest in the prosecution of the work. There are, to the minds of a great many people, matters of mutual concern affecting San Francisco and San Mateo counties, such as water supply, rapid transit, port development, sewerage disposal and health measures, better articulation of thoroughfares, metropolitan zoning and planning and schools.

"Again, Mr. Editor, allow me to thank you for your excellent editorial, which so clearly stated the purposes of the San Francisco-San Mateo Counties Consolidation Study Convention.

Respectfully,
DANIEL C. IMBODEN.
Secretary, Three Cities Chamber of Commerce.

Co. School Board Will Meet June 6

A meeting of the trustees of the various school districts of San Mateo county has been called by County Superintendent Pansy J. Abbott, to be held in the superior court room at the courthouse in Redwood City at 9:30 a. m. on Saturday, June 6.

The program will include talks by Sam H. Cohn, deputy superintendent of public instruction, Sacramento; Albert C. Olney, commissioner of secondary schools, Sacramento, and L. E. Adams, district superintendent of schools of Burlingame, it was announced today by Miss Abbott.

This will be the regular trustees' convention, as provided by the state school law, and at least one member of each board in the county is expected to attend.

The notice sent to the different school boards of the county by Miss Abbott is as follows:

To the Trustees of San Mateo County—Greetings:
You are hereby notified that there will be a trustees' institute for San Mateo county to be held Saturday, June 6, at 9:30 a. m.

The sessions will be held in the superior courtroom at the courthouse, Redwood City, Cal.

The law provides that each district shall designate one of the members of the board as a delegate to said trustees' convention and all of the expenses for said attendance shall be paid from the county fund of the district.

You will kindly decide upon the member who will represent your district. I am particularly anxious that every district in San Mateo county shall be represented, as I desire to become personally acquainted with all of the trustees of the schools of this county.

While the law does not permit me to approve a warrant for the attendance of more than one trustee, I hope that all of the trustees of the different districts will try to attend this meeting. We will have members of the state superintendent's office present to explain the new laws and matters pertaining to the budget will be discussed.

I am hoping for the same co-operation that you have always accorded Mr. Cloud, and trust that you will call upon me whenever you need any help or assistance in your school district.

Pay a Ten Spot Each

Henry Brown and William Moran were arrested on Thursday last, charged with disturbing the peace. They enriched the city coffers to the extent of ten dollars each.

H. L. Twissdale, charged with assault and battery, pleaded guilty and left $10 in real money before he left the courtroom.

The rumor that Governor Richardson's objection to signing the bill placing the Bayshore Highway in the state program is based on the fact that part of the road is in San Francisco was answered Monday by a message from Mayor James Rolph of San Francisco stating that the city will pay all costs of the road within city boundaries.

The message was sent to Governor Richardson following a conference at the San Francisco city hall between Mayor Rolph, Harvey M. Toy, chairman of the State Highway Commission, and T. P. Andrews of the San Francisco Downtown Association, who led the fight at Sacramento for inclusion of the Bayshore in the state road building program, as well as for the Breed gas tax bill to finance the Bayshore and other important roads.

The message followed a "tip" which came to San Francisco officials on the governor's intention to kill the Bayshore measure.

The gas tax is doomed, but with federal aid, which may be enlisted next year, it is hoped to construct some part of the highly important Bayshore road, according to Chairman Toy.

The pledge of Mayor Rolph Monday is a reiteration of San Francisco's promise made at the time the Bayshore road was first projected.

San Francisco has already appropriated $500,000 for construction of the first unit. Mayor Rolph notified Governor Richardson Monday that the city contemplates supplying more than $1,000,000 to that portion of the road from Army Street, San Francisco, to the San Mateo County line. The amount is estimated at from $1,250,000 to $1,750,000.

T. P. Andrews, chairman of the legislative committee of the Downtown Association and also delegated by the Peninsula Federated Chambers of Commerce, is calling on Governor Richardson, it is understood. He will urge the governor to sign the bill for the Bayshore road, even though the Breed bill is killed.

Political circles and organizations devoted to road building were agitated Tuesday over the statement of Governor Richardson, as follows: "No new tax raising device will be signed unless an overwhelming demand is made for it by the people." He also said, according to Sacramento advises Tuesday: "All schemes to increase taxes will be smothered."

By this it is meant that Governor Richardson will neglect to sign the Breed bill before midnight on next Friday, the time limit as fixed by law, according to local observers of the situation.

Association Warns Against Vacation Traffic Dangers

With the touring season now in full swing and the vacation centers thronged with city drivers, all motorists must exercise special care to reduce the toll of property damage, injuries and deaths caused by the sudden influx of thousands of automobiles to the country and mountain roads, the public safety department of the California State Automobile Association declared in a statement issued yesterday.

The touring season annually brings a sharp increase in the number of accidents, according to the association, which emphasizes the following precautions to be observed by motorists when answering the call of the open road in search of vacation pleasures:

Keep to the right on curves; give yourself as well as the other motorist a fair chance to avoid collision on mountain roads.

Use the horn on curves; a moment's warning may prevent a collision.

Use the compression when descending hills and save the brakes; you may need all of their efficiency in an emergency.

Don't permit camping equipment or luggage to extend over the left side of the running board. This is dangerous as well as an illegal practice.

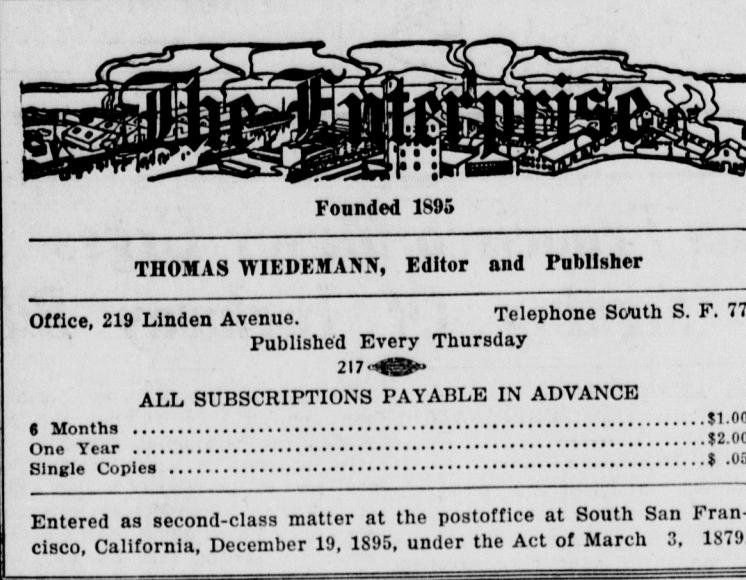

NO DECISION ON CROSSING MATTER

No word has as yet been received from the railroad commission in regard to the Orange Avenue crossing, which some weeks ago, came up before the railroad commission. It is anticipated, however, that in the very near future this decision will be forthcoming and the general opinion expressed by civic officials is that a favorable decision will be rendered.

MEMORIAL DAY

Saturday is Memorial Day, the day upon which we pay reverence to the brave defenders of our flag and country, who made the supreme sacrifice in order that that flag, symbolic of liberty; representing the grandest republic on earth, may still wave over an enlightened and free people. While this day was first proclaimed to the memory of our Civil War veterans, it now has even a greater significance by reason of the Spanish-American War and the great World War. Having taken an active part in the latter war and having gone into battle with an entire battalion and emerged from the living hell with but less than half a hundred men, comrades in arms, friends of our home town and business associates, we can realize to the full extent what Memorial Day really means. It is, therefore, to our mind, deplorable that unfortunately the spirit of commercialism enters into the occasion, and in many quarters capital is made out of a day that should be one of the most sacred days of the year. Let us observe Memorial Day in the manner in which it should be observed, and let us at least forget commercialism on this sacred day or in connection with it.

If you have no immediate relatives who made the supreme sacrifice, it is your opportunity on Saturday to show your gratitude to those who did by decorating their last resting place in a fitting manner. Let us all join in a moment of silent tribute to the HEROES OF OUR WARS.

CARELESSNESS WITH FIRE INEXCUSABLE

The fire demon is taking an increasing toll every year in this country on account of careless folks in the mountains. They ride in comfortable automobiles, throw smoking stubs of cigars and cigarettes into the brush and leave live coals in their campfires. Such habits are dangerous even in the city, where there are paved streets, tiled floors and electric stoves, but they are fatal to the future of our forests.

Fires swept over thousands of acres of timber land last summer and fall. The time of year is approaching again when such fires may be expected. Every citizen who goes into the mountains should have impressed upon his mind in some manner the tremendous fire responsibilities that rest upon him along the roads, trails and in the camps.

The Enterprise feels that fire prevention cannot be too strongly impressed upon one and all, therefore we again touch on this important matter.

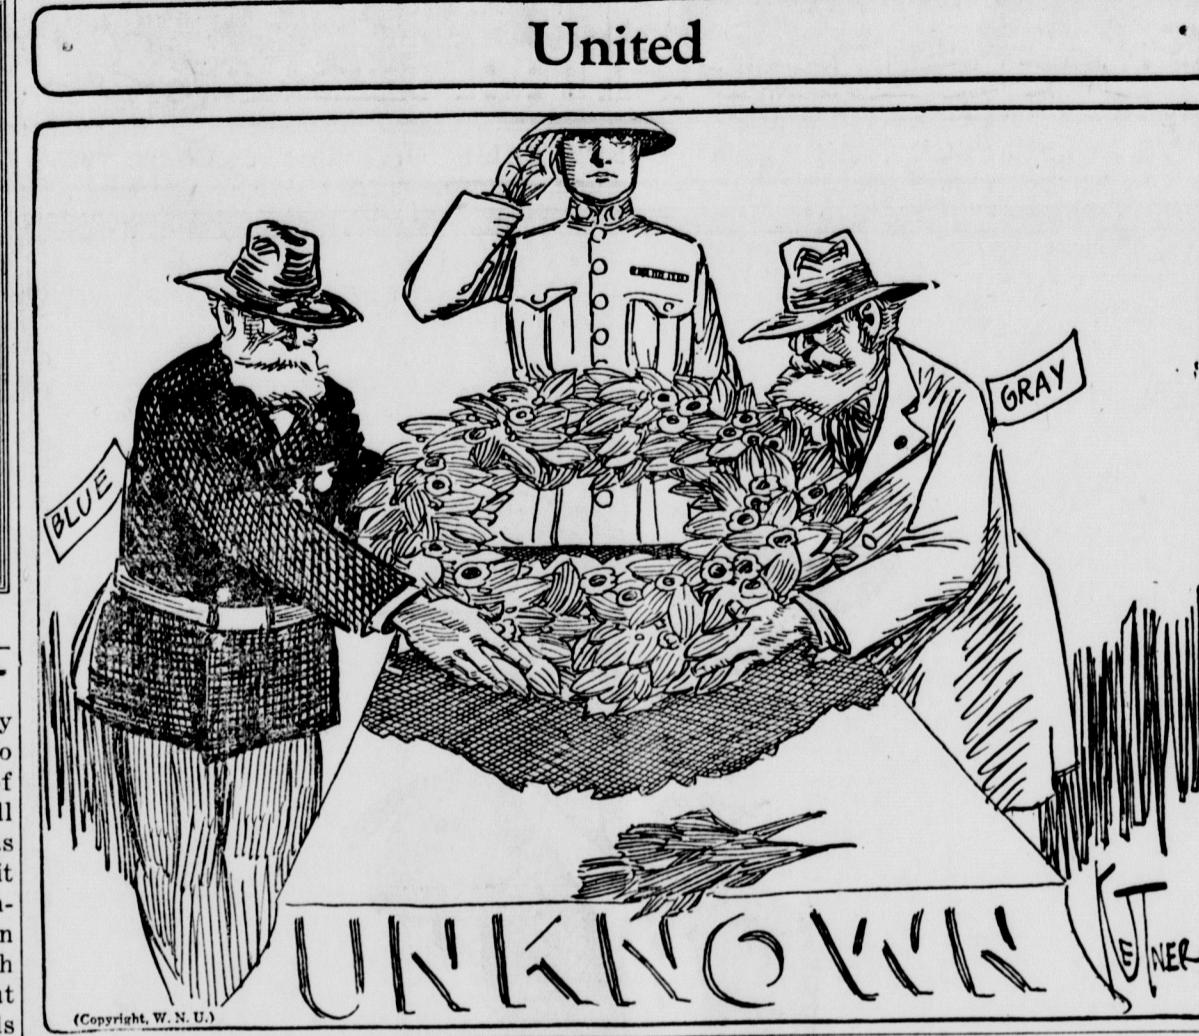

THE FIREMEN'S ASSOCIATION

Some few months ago there was organized in San Mateo County, the Associated Firemen of San Mateo County. Recently we have heard considerable comment in connection with this organization. This comment comes principally from the professional politicians. The politicians realize the strength that there is in effective organization and in consequence these politicians are not inclined to look with much favor on the new association. We were even told by a prominent professional politician (and there are a few of these gentlemen in this county) that the firemen are organizing for political purposes.

We can honestly state, however, that this association was not organized for political purposes. In other words, it will not enter politics unless forced to do so by these very same professional politicians who at present are making these comments.

Section 2, Article 1 of the Rules and Bylaws of this organization reads as follows: "The objects of the organization shall be:—To unite the members of the respective fire departments throughout the county of San Mateo, both volunteer and salaried, for the purpose of maintaining, improving and standardizing the fire equipment and personnel of the respective companies. To promote a spirit of sociability and fraternalism. To co-operate with the state organization in the matter of any and all state legislative matters and to collectively handle any matters that would tend to maintain fire insurance rates at a minimum throughout the county."

This association also has inaugurated a campaign of education along the lines of fire prevention. There is not a great deal of political significance there, only in so far as improving fire fighting facilities. Then again, under the rules and by-laws of this association there is absolutely no chance for political faction or district to get control of the organization. For instance, Daly City with over one hundred members has the same voting strength as San Bruno with its fifty members, San Bruno has no greater strength than San Carlos with its seventeen members, etc. In other words, Daly City with 108 members has no more to say in this association than has San Carlos with its seventeen members, when it comes to the actual vote on any question. We mention Daly City here only because the five companies in that city have the largest membership in the county today. The Associated Firemen of San Mateo County was organized to protect and safeguard life limb and property. Can there be any more worthy objective? It should receive the whole hearted support of every citizen in San Mateo County.

'Twas In the Early Days

(From Enterprise of 1896 and 1897)

A postoffice has been established at San Bruno, in this township, with Terrence Masterson as postmaster.

Mr. G. Davidson purchased the east one-half of lot 7, in block 139, for the consideration of $1250. This incident indicates that those who know the situation here have confidence in the business property on Grand avenue, which is the cream of the town.

Coming!

The wonder of the age, the anamograph and color opticon, will positively appear at Hansbrough hall, Baden, May 18, and White House Gardens, Colma, May 22.

By means of the anamograph, life size figures of men, women and animals, and scenes from nature are thrown upon a screen and present to the spectator an animated moving panorama. Some of the scenes thrown on the sheet are realistic in the extreme and the audience simply goes wild with wonder and admiration.

Among the scenes are rapidly moving trains, making 70 miles per hour. Street scenes from Europe. Cock fights, an exciting contest between lively birds in which feathers fly freely. Clark's thread mill, showing over 500 moving people (men, woman and children), the facial expressions of each is clearly defined. Hurdle race by blooded horses, taking extremely high hurdles; a very interesting subject. Also "The Kiss," by May Irwin and John. This picture has created a sensation and is alone well worth the price of admission.

The Coloropticon shows beautiful and startling effects in tints and colors. Remember the date. Doors open at 7. Performance at 8.

General admission, 25 cents; children (under 12), 10 cents. Entertainment to close with a social dance.

Our Real and Rightful Name Restored

Once more our postoffice bears the name of our town. On the 14th day of the present month, by order of the postoffice department, the name of the postoffice at this place was changed from "Baden" to South San Francisco, or, more properly speaking, the name of South San Francisco was restored to this postoffice.

The name of our town is South San Francisco, as such the townsite was platted and recorded, and in that name all titles to real estate run and all transfers thereof are made. The official designation of the railroad station and Wells Fargo's express office at this place is South San Francisco and all freight is forwarded, all express matter dispatched, and all telegraphic messages sent to that address.

The postoffice, when established in 1892, was very properly given the name of the town and was officially designated South San Francisco. The changing of the name to Baden was a misnomer and was brought about through the intrigue and misrepresentation of neighbors just across the line from us in the city and county of San Francisco.

Now that this change is made, our freight, express, mail and telegraphic messages will all have one address and there will be no confusion. For this act of justice to our town, our citizens are indebted to our faithful and efficient representative in congress, Hon. E. F. Loud, who placed the facts with regard to this matter before the postoffice department and whose position at the head of the committee on postoffices and post roads, gave weight to his recommendation.

On the evening of June 5th, an interesting exhibit will be given for the first time in a number of years at the local high school, when the work of several of its departments will be on display. In spite of the fact that plans for the exhibit have been under way for but few weeks, the affair will be of real interest to parents and friends.

The students of Miss Simon, the art teacher, will have a splendid display in the assembly hall. The library will be the scene of the commercial department's showing of typed letters and forms and of bookkeeping sets. Room No. 11 (just opposite the assembly) is to contain the furniture and drawings made by Mr. Hunter's manual training and mechanical drawing classes. Geographic maps, the productions of the Junior High School, are to be given a place in the assembly.

A program of some importance will be a feature of the evening exhibition. The orchestra, under the direction of Robert Reed, and Miss Clifford's Glee Club will each render several selections. The second annual "Weller trophy" typing contest will also be held. Twelve typists will occupy the stage—four each to compete in the advanced, intermediate and beginners sections. The winner of the advanced group is to receive a handsome silver trophy, properly engraved, as a permanent possession—the gift of G. C. Weller, head of the commercial department. The intermediate winner will receive a smaller cup, to be presented by Miss Pedrett, typing teacher. An award is also to be given to the one who writes the most net words in the beginners' group. All contestants will write for fifteen minutes from the same copy at the same time. The winners will not be announced until graduation night, at which time the awards will be presented.

Miss Clifford's 3B oral English class will stage a mock trial. It is a criminal case, the charge being that an article was stolen from a rummage sale. The affair is entirely impromptu—not rehearsal beforehand.

The parents and friends are invited and urged to attend the exhibit. Admission is free.

SAN FRANCISCO MATRICIDE GOES ON TRIAL JUNE 15

San Francisco.—Dorothy Ellingson will go on trial again on June 15, for the murder of her mother. Her defense will be that "someone else," not she, fired the fatal shot. She will try to show she was "temporarily insane" when she made the confession that she killed her mother. The fact that a jury and court legally adjudged her insane will be used to repudiate the several confessions upon which the state will seek to convict her. She has asked that Walter McGovern be her chief defense counsel, and that Alexander Moosli and former Judge Mcatee be associated with him.

A new jury will be required to try the case, the previous murder jury having been discharged after she was found to be insane. Assistant District Attorneys Harmon D. Skillin and W. W. Murphy will appear for the state.

Her time is devoted chiefly to the teaching of English in the high school. Her disciplinary methods are very effective and she is able to manage without difficulty students who have been a trial to other teachers. She commands not only the respect, but the affection of her pupils as well. She takes an active interest in the affairs of the school and is always found among those present. She has a most pleasing personality and is a good mixer.

The first period class is now the best team in the school by virtue of its winning over the third period class. The third period class is now trying to get another game with the first period class. Last time they were defeated, but they still have an idea that they are good enough to give a good battle.

To Those Who Gave Most

"For those who gave most." These are the words which will move California next week, when every man, woman and child of the state, outside the larger cities, will be asked to do their share for the war veterans who sacrificed their health and the children who gave their fathers that the nation might survive. South San Francisco is going to do her share towards the national $5,000,000 endowment fund being established by the American Legion for disabled veterans and orphans of former service men. California's quota is $400,000 and already a substantial portion of this sum has been raised. The local committee, including A. Weller, W. Hyland, A. Hynding, Ernest Miller, Angelo Genovesi, Dan McSweeney, Judge Farrell and J. O. Snyder held a meeting last Thursday night and perfected plans for an active campaign to raise the local quota. It is assured that South San Francisco will respond nobly to this worthy cause.

An inquest was held at 10 o'clock Monday morning, May 25, by Coroner W. A. Brooks of Half Moon Bay, in which the verdict was rendered that the deceased had met his death from drinking lysol poison by mistake.

Golden State
News of Interest to All

May 20 was "tragedy day" at Los Angeles, ten fatal incidents being recorded of widely different natures: Mrs. Jean Cahill, wife of an electrical engineer, attempted suicide. Chester M. Cate, head librarian of the nationally famous Huntington library at San Marino, was found dead on a lonely road, a suicide. Edgar Collier died of heart failure, at the wheel of his automobile on a crowded street. Russell Smart, started to move his household goods early in the morning hours; a policeman shot him. U. S. Coville, 89, Alhambra, killed himself. W. J. Brown, Culver City, killed himself with gas. Edward Walker, hoisting a 100-pound block of ice into a refrigerator, was killed. Walter Cowles, veteran cowpuncher, slipped as he hoisted a 200-pound side and may die. Joe Bujan, motion picture director, injured by an automobile. A. A. Schaub, Santa Monica, died of a shotgun wound.

The value of saving minutes was fully demonstrated in the boring of the $17,000,000 tunnel at Florence lake. When the job was started in 1920, it was thought that July of 1926 would come before the finish was reached. In such work it had heretofore been necessary to wait from two to three hours after each blast for the pit to clear of poisonous gases before allowing the men to resume work. The powder companies, with a new blasting solution, cut this lost time to about one-half an hour. This saving of minutes aggregated twenty-two months before the end of the work was reached.

The Eighteenth amendment and measures to enforce the Volstead act were arraigned by Dr. Granville MacGowan of Los Angeles, president of the California Medical association, before the fifty-fourth annual convention of that body at Yosemite, who characterized prohibition enforcement as "a state of civil war throughout the land," and declared "the flood of alcoholic liquors into this country" was a menace with which the medical profession must cope.

Three years ago, according to the story told, M. T. Thompson of San Francisco lost confidence in his Shasta county mine and decided to give it up. The Mad Mule, he declared, was a failure, and invited prospectors to help themselves. A few of them took him at his word and succeeded in removing $40,000 worth of gold from the property before Thompson heard of it and returned to Whiskytown.

At the annual encampment of the California and Nevada Grand Army of the Republic, at Sacramento, an excessive downpour caused the cancellation of the annual parade, which was to have been the feature of the session. The rain also spoiled the plans for an open air campfire and the veterans gathered in the assembly chamber of the state capitol instead.

Revolutionary disturbances in Central America were brought to the attention of Senator Hiram Johnson when a detachment of Honduran soldiers boarded his yacht, Kemah, at Amapala one morning at daybreak, routed out the senator, his son, and members of the crew, and accused those on the craft of carrying arms and munitions for the revolutionists.

The Redwood memorial grove was dedicated, May 20, by members of the California Federation of Women's Clubs in convention at Santa Cruz. The federation has raised $50,000 to preserve the redwood trees.

An invitation to be the guest of San Francisco during the Diamond Jubilee celebration has been extended President Gerardo Machado of Cuba by a delegation of Mission Council, Knights of Columbus.

A monument to Dr. Lafayette H. Bunnell, member of the first expedition against the Yosemite Indians, in 1851, was raised at Yosemite by the state medical association, May 19.

Secretary of Commerce Hoover will leave Washington June 10, for California, and during the summer he will make a number of addresses in California and other western places.

Yolo county, the first in the state of California to start its drive for the American Legion endowment fund, went over the top 200 per cent above the allocated quota of $950.

A dam twelve feet high, which had been erected in Hayfork river unprovided with fish ladders, was dynamited by deputies of the fish and game commission.

The Bank of Italy shortly will start construction of a bank and store building at Crescent City, Del Norte county. The structure will cost about $80,000.

W. R. Stewart was exonerated at Eureka for killing S. E. Burnett in a fight over Burnett's attentions to Stewart's wife.

C. S. Stoddard of Santa Barbara was chosen department commander of the California and Nevada department of the G. A. R.; A. E. Cohan of San Francisco, was elected junior vice-commander, and John Kenyon, senior vice-commander at the business session of the annual encampment. Pasadena was chosen for the 1926 encampment. This carries with it also the affiliated orders. Mrs. Addie L. Fleming of Sacramento was chosen department president of Ladies of the G. A. R., at the closing session of that department's business session. She has been senior vice-president.

Starting married life in a rented home or an apartment is not very inspiring. It's a roof over your head--that's all. A certain bill you have to pay every month, with nothing to show for your efforts at the end of the year but rent receipts.

BUT--when you're paying off on a home, that's something else again. Something worth working for. And when you've paid off that last dollar, you feel well repaid for the energy you put in--in trying to reach your goal.

"The Way to Beautiful Homes"

A NEW finish for walls

Have you seen the new "mottledone" wall finishes? They are quite the vogue in the newer homes, and many older homes are being done over to secure these up-to-the-minute wall effects.

Wonderfully attractive color combinations in mottledone are possible with FLAT COAT WALL PAINT. You first paint the wall with one color and let it dry; then apply a second color, and while wet, stipple by "dabbing" it with a folded piece of cloth or paper. The result is a charming blending of two colors in an irregular pattern. And your walls are washable.

Ask for a color card which gives full directions for mottledone, and shows some of the effects that can be obtained.

You can now paint your property and pay on the Bass-Hueter Monthly Payment Plan. Call and let us explain this plan to you.
